“ Goodbye Momma. I love you and miss you. It hurts so bad knowing I will never see you, hug you, or hear your voice ever again. I will never be able to hear you say you love me or tell you I love you. I feel the void in my heart and in the world that can only be filled by you. It is so painful. You lived 90 years, but it wasn't long enough. I will always remember you telling me I was your little Indian boy. Tell Daddy I have missed him all these years. 🥹

Love forever your son,

Richard

“ Mawmaw, you were that most kind hearted person. You took such great care of all of your babies. I will forever cherish all the wonderful memories. From picking blackberries, holidays at your house, running around the property, you making us cheese toast for breakfast, and making sure we all had whatever we needed. You are such a special woman. We all miss you so much already!! I love you more than you could ever know. Heaven is so lucky to have you.. save me a spot next to you❤️

I love you my angel,

Hailey

“ Mom, I love you so much and im going to miss you so bad. There will be times that things will happen and I will say " I got to tell mom" and then I will realize that I can't. There will be times that I laugh in your memory, I will cry in your memory and know that you will surely always be alive in my memory. How do I get over never hearing your voice say my name again? How do I get used to this "new normal"? The only comfort I have is knowing that you are no longer in pain, no longer stuck in a bed. You can walk now, free of fear and anxiety. You are now with Jesus and the rest of our family. Dont forget to come guide the way when its my turn to come home. Love always, your baby Vonnie
