

Ms. Carol Mosley Sellers

September 17, 1952 - November 24, 2023

In loving memory of Carol Mosley Sellers, affectionately known as Oma, leaving behind a legacy illuminated by love, laughter, and countless cherished moments. Carol, born on September 17, 1952, peacefully completed her earthly journey on November 24, 2023.

In her passage to the next chapter, she joins those who preceded her in death: husband, Donald Woodrow Sellers; parents, Rosa Lee and John Mosley; brothers Jerry, Tony; twin brother, Harold and nephew, Randy Miller. Survived by an extensive family circle, including a daughter, two grandchildren, four great-grandchildren, sister Betty Miller, brother John Mosley, as well as a myriad of nieces and nephews. Additionally, she leaves behind a cherished group of lifelong friends; their bonds are a testament to the profound impact of Carol's warmth and kindness on all who shared her company.

Oma served as the cornerstone of her family, a devoted mother to Donna (Lance) Lane, a doting grandmother to Kai-Lee (Loren) and Olivia, as well as a source of endless joy for her four great-grandchildren, Chloe, Cambria, Kalea, and Atlas.

Known for her boundless love and spontaneous spirit, Oma's trips to Dirt Cheap were legendary, turning the ordinary task of bargain hunting into a memorable escapade. Summers were synonymous with Oma's infectious enthusiasm for swimming adventures, creating ripples of happiness that will be treasured forever. The shared joy of milkshakes turned into a delightful tradition, embodying the sweetness of Oma's love.

Oma's house was not just a home; it was a haven of creativity and chaos. In a lawless free-for-all, she gracefully endured beautiful makeovers orchestrated by her great-grandkids, adding a touch of whimsy to her world, even if the end results weren't her personal preference.

During Christmas, Oma found immense joy in being Mrs. Claus to countless children. Her long-term companion, Aubrey Hollingsworth, playing Santa alongside her, created a magical duo that enchanted the holiday season for many.

As she departed this world, we find comfort in knowing that Oma was welcomed into the arms of her beloved Don (Poppy), who left us 22 years ago, much too soon, leaving a lasting mark on our hearts and a void that only their reunion can fill. Their love and bond were evident in their daughter, Donna, the heartbeat of their lives. His deep affection for Oma was the foundation of their shared journey, timelessly etched into our family's history forever. Perhaps, in that reunion, sweet tea pours endlessly, an everlasting taste of the comforting drink Oma cherished.

Oma's legacy is a colorful tapestry woven with love, laughter, and the unforgettable moments that define family. As we say our farewells, let us honor the remarkable woman who embraced life's spontaneity and left a permanent imprint on our hearts.

We'll love and miss you forever, Cuckoo Banana!

We are working to finalize memorial details and will share them soon.
