“ Evelyn was my mother's first child and I among her nearer to the youngest than closer to her. Evelyn was grown and married when I was grade school age. I remember her as a talented and stubborn lady who refused to accept the word 'no'. One of my earliest memories of my sister is her playing the piano during service in church. She and I were not close during most of our lives but I love her none the less.

“ My sweet sister. I'm so thankful that we got to share the last couple of years catching up.
Rest in peace sweet girl. Love you always.
