“ Ryan came into my life just shy of his 2nd birthday. In title I was his step-mother, but in both our hearts, I was his mother. His father joined the Army 3 years after we were married and I raised him along with his sister, Samantha that came along when he was 6 years old and his brother when he was 9. Ryan returned to Alabama when he was 16 to establish a relationship with his natural mother. He was such a joy and I have so many memories that bring a smile to my face that I will treasure forever. Such a truly sad thing for anyone that knew him. He was smart, funny, a good father, son, brother, husband and friend. He will be missed and remembered with love as my first child.
