“ My name is Tammylou Lick and not only was he an indigenous olive skin medicine man, my Dad saved a lot of lives, respected people's wishes, never let me down and defended me when he was homeless. Therefore I made sure he was not ever homeless while I was still alive and that is how I know John Earl Lick was a good Dad to me and I'm glad I never turned my back on him like the rest of the family who I'm unable to contact and I'm terrified because I'm unable to contact my own family in regards to his passing. Peace be upon you Daddy!!
