“ We always had fun practicing with our bows before deer season came in shooting at the targets in the yard drinking a few cold ones. Hunter sure had a blast when we would go fishing in the dirt pit and you'd help him set the hook and reel in the fish, had good times riding through Walmart on the handicapped carts when we broke our legs a few weeks apart, catching crabs under the bridge in Mississippi, wakeboarding behind your boat on the escatawpa river these are the memories I'll always remember, you were such a great friend and great person in general, we sure are going to miss you man. Rest easy brother

“ Oh man I don't even know where to start, we've done everything from hold each other up when we fall to learning how to line dance in the living room at momma penny's house I have so many memories like when we were welding partners in Cincinnati and Alabama lost against LSU and you got mad and said "come on bud we're gonna early out" we got to the truck and both at the same time said "I need a drink" and off we went 🍺🍺 for the time we took your dad's 14 ft flat bottom John boat past the second set of rigs in 6 ft seas just to go fishing for Spanish we didn't catch anything AND WE FORGOT TO PUT THE PLUG IN THE BOAT (smart move on our part) lol I could go on and on and on you may not be here anymore boss man but you'll forever be in my heart and in my tig gloves well take it from here man I love you brother j.t.

“ Never Gonna look at shrimp the same. 2 weeks ago you Poked your head in the door and said “do you want some shrimp?” I said yes sounds good and you came in with a big metal bowl full of live jumping shrimp! One even jumped out of the bowl onto the floor. It was the bait left over from a fishing trip! Only you, justin could boil them up (a little too spicy for me) but only you could talk me into eating fish bait. We laughed as we ate and made plans to get some fresh oysters. I loved you before I knew you and I will love always.
