“ What I remember the most about Karen was her tenacity, never giving up, and her Christian joy she had no matter what the circumstances in her life. She exuded Christ's love in everything she did. As a neighbor, I can attest that Karen was a GOOD neighbor and few people can say that about their neighbors. I remember many a day we went looking for her dog, Ginger, escaped and running free or my escape artist, Izzy. Karen always wanted to help others. What really stands out in my mind is that in the end, she remained upbeat and smiling and wouldn't allow any of us to be sad. Karen, you are a star now, gazing down on all of us, which is only the glint in your eye as you smiled when meeting your God and Jesus.
