“ She was the most open minded person I've ever met. There was no one as nice as her. She was one of my best friends. She could party harder than any lady I've ever met.

“ *Leigh will be remembered most for her love of her family. She loved sending birthday and Christmas cards and gifts. Leigh treasured the memories of family who had gone before her, and I'm sure she is rejoicing with them now. She suffered greatly in the last few years, but never lost hope that she would get well and be able to give back to her friends who cared for her. She was my sweet friend, a partner in daily prayer, and a fellow fan of the Crimson Tide. I look forward to the day when we will meet again, but for now, enjoy your new life in Heaven.
