“ I will miss you, sir. I will miss seeing your face light up as you answered your door and I handed eggs to you...sometimes food...satsumas from my tree. What will hurt the most is not being able to see you enjoy the figs from the tree I bought for you, the tree that you just planted a couple of months ago. I'm sorry I took so long to find the perfect, "beautiful tree," as you put it. I will miss you.
