“ I knew Diane from 2nd grade and after we both got married and lost touch until just recently when we once again touched base on Facebook. Now I am so saddened that once again I have lost her again, We had many fun times together as young adults. She was such a caring friend, kind, caring, funny and sweet. She never changed and was always such a good person. I am happy that I will once again see her when I am called home to meet my maker, I will see you soon my dear friend.
